Programming
- Overall refinement and simplification of the activity creation flow
- As an event organiser, I can now create an activity that has already occurred in one flow
- As a user, I can filter lists of members by typing
- As a user, I can see programs awaiting action (complete planning and complete review)
- As an event organiser, I can associate and award I-statements to youth member's Outdoor Adventure Skills pathways through the activity planning and concluding process
- As an event organiser, I can associate and attribute a record from an activity to youth members' logbooks once an activity has been concluded.
- As a user I can check off a youth member's attendance and participation separately
- As an event organiser, I can specify which SPICES the members engaged with during the activity as part of the Review step
- Other quality of life improvements

Calendar
- As a user, I can see all events that are relevant to me, toggle their visibility and distinguish them by colour
- As a user, I can subscribe and sync my Terrain program calendar with third party calendars
- As a user I can download a spreadsheet for upcoming events that I can customise, print or email

Milestones
- As an adult leader, I can skip a Milestone for a youth member
- As a member, I can see which Challenge Areas the leads and assists for a Milestone belong to, whilst the Milestone is still in progress
- As a youth member, I can use SPICES to review my progress in a Milestone
- As a youth member, I can now attach files to my Milestone review

The team looks forward to being able to provide you with another update shortly!
